- Boys vs. Girls: Today marks the halfway point of Analy's first Boys vs. Girls Fundraiser Race. This is an all out battle of the sexes to see which can make the longest trail of dots around the school. The winning gender of this competition will be awarded a donut frenzy with more than 100 donuts given out for free. It only costs 25 cents a dot so head on down to the quad today defeat the opposing team, and prove who is better once and for all! Boys are at 143 and the girls are winning with 164 dots! That's only a 21 difference. Come on guys!
- Teen Counseling Project presents: Straightlaced-How Gender Has Us All Tied Up: This workshop focuses on the challenging issue of gender identity as faced by today's teens. Included will be a viewing of Straightlaced, a film that takes a fearless look at this charged subject. Watch the movie and then engage in a lively discussion led by a panel of local teens and professional adults. This is for parents, educators and anyone else who wants to understand teens better. October 9, 2011 2pm-5pm Sebastopol Community Center-Teen Annex.
